Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 16, 17, 20 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barger et al. (EP-1,182,433) (hereinafter Barger).

Barger teaches a Coriolis mass flow sensor (500) comprising a flow tube (502), a tube position sensor including a light source (510) and a light detector (512) for receiving light from the light source; and a drive device (513, 514) for vibrating the flow tube, such that the flow tube moves through a light path between the light source and the light detector. Barger teaches a light pipe in the form of a fiber optic (page 17, paragraph 109). Such a fiber optic would inherently be considered as a light pipe. As to claim 23, the first means receiving light from the light source is nothing more than the light detector and thus the light detector would inherently have such a characteristic as to convert the light from the Gaussian power distribution to a flat power distribution as there is no technical feature that is provided to achieve this result.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 4 is objected to because of the following informalities: At line 5, “light outlet of the light” should be changed to read -- light outlet of the light pipe --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-8, 18, 19, 21, 22 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barger.

Barger teaches all the features of the instant invention except for the light pipe having different cross-sections. It would have been within the scope of a skilled individual to choose any know shape for the light pipe as there is no criticality shown that would otherwise provide better solution in using such shapes. As to the optics module body it would be obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art since such an arrangement would provide support to the light pipe when installed to the flow pipe or to the housing.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 9-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
The prior arts made available do not teach or fairly suggest, alone or in combination, the optics module having a second opening having an axis oriented transverse to the axis of the first opening and having a lens therein receiving light from the light pipe outlet.
